About Jess

HELLO!

I'm Jess (she/her) and I'm just a 30 something little scouser with a big fancy camera capturing life as it unfolds around me.

My favourite part of being a photographer is how many different people I get to meet. Love has such an abundance of different forms, each and every one of them is valid and special.

I believe everybody deserves to feel celebrated and worthy of being photographed and my aim is to create a safe space for every person I work with.
